The lovely Pottery Village is one of the places we have visited during our Hoi An tour, Interesting, and you are not pushed to buying anything. At the end of the tour, you get a gift: a small pottery whistle. Nice.

Well worth the Excursion

19 Oct 2018

We took a boat up the Xiao River to the Pottery Village. We watched how they make the pottery and then we had a tour of the village. There is a lot of pottery to see and or buy. We were given free pottery whistles in the shape of our birth year animals. It is still the monsoon season and we got caught in a major downfall and got soaked. It was fun though!

Fascinating

There is a World here built out of pottery. By that I mean they have created all the main attractions from countries around the world in pottery. eg. Sydney Opera House etc for Australia. Pyramids for Egypt and so on.

Great woodworking

26 Jun 2018

Caught a boat over to this island not knowing what to expect. It was very quiet & hardly any tourists. Was able to watch carvers doing their work in Kim Bong village. Walked around the boat building yard. All very interesting. I would visit again to see and experience everything.
