Cham Island is still a pristine island

15 Oct 2018

Cham Island is still a pristine island. The people here are friendly and hospitable. Most visitors come to this place to buy delicious seafood at a cheap price and dive into the coral. There are beautiful beaches but not very wide because of the deep water and many rapids. However, it is also attractive for those who love to explore the feeling of sea bath with high waves and high pressure. The feeling described by some visitors is that the massage is slightly stronger. Because the water is so deep, coral reefs are hard to see without scuba diving and coral reefs are not as good as some other places. Seafood is delicious and cheap, can be purchased as a gift
